Our City Comment & discussion

Give Noddy
Ex-Service Men
Not a Bonus
But That Which Is Their
Just Due

THE proposed soldier bonus bill will come up again soon for discussion. That the discussion will be lively can be judged by the experiences of the past. While it will most likely become a law even if vetoed by the president, it will not be passed without causing considerable ill feeling on both sides of the controversy.

Secretary Mellon announced recently that it is up to the people to choose either a reduction in present taxes amounting to over three hundred million dollars or a soldier bonus, but not both.

WE DO NOT think this problem should be looked at from the financial standpoint at all. If it was just that our soldiers and sailors of the world war should be paid compensation for the time they spent in the service the so-called bonus bill should be enacted.

We cannot look at any effort to repay the individual who served in the army or navy at a distinct financial loss to his dependents as a bonus in any sense of the word.

To the man serving in the ranks for the small pittance of $30.00 per month while the nation is paying hands received that much for one to three days' labor, it seems a misnomer. If the bonus bill should add one dollar a day for time spent in the army or navy it would only mean that the service man's pay would have been $2.00 a day, which would be compensation only in a measure for the average pay he would have made if he had not served in the army.

THE OPONENTS of the bonus bill are basing their objections on the theory that by the soldiers taking money for their service, they will dim the glory of their sacrifice. This sounds good, but the treatment of the ex-service man since the nation has not convinced them that the country appreciated very much the sacrifice they made. Even on Armistice Day, which has been chosen as a day to do honor to the fallen buddies, it has been difficult to get the business interests to observe the occasion. The treatment accorded the incapacitated veteran has been a blot on our nation's name and if the sacrifice made by these men has not been appreciated we do not wonder that the rank and file of the veterans have come to the conclusion that the public is quick to forget.

THE PEOPLE at large are getting anxious to see a reduction in taxes and the three hundred million dollar saving as mentioned by Secretary Mellon sounds attractive but we do not think the American people would favor this saving if it interferes with the proposed bonus, so called.

There are many of us ex-service men who do not need or care for any extra compensation from the government, but the ex-soldier or sailor who has had hard scratching to make both ends meet should not be made to sacrifice because we are not in need.

APPRECIATION of the ex-service man must come from posterity, evidently. For the present the golden rule and it seems to matter little if the money was made through staying out of the service.

CLUB SECTION WITH LONG COGNOMEN HAS MEETING

Members of the citizenship and legislative section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, which held its third meeting Wednesday at the clubhouse under the leadership of Miss Ida Myers, curator, enjoyed a wonderful program. Mrs. Beach of San Fernando read an exceedingly interesting sketch of the life of James Madison and Mrs. Butterfield of Burbank a sketch of George Washington. Miss Myers then gave the second of her talks on the constitution of the United States, which are to be a feature of section meetings.

A unanimous vote was recorded to accept the invitation of the literary section to meet with it next Wednesday and also voted to omit its next regular meeting because it will fall on Thanksgiving week and not convene until the second Wednesday in December.

OREGON TO VOTE ON SALEM, Ore., Nov. 15.—A petition for an initiative bill to repeal the state income tax, approved by the voters of Oregon at the special election of November 6, was filed with the secretary of state here this morning by C. C. Chapman, editor of the Oregon Voter.

GLENDALE IS AFTER SCIOTS' 1925 CONVENTION

New Business Block, Los Feliz at Central, to Mark Gateway Epoch?

TREAT WHITE WAY OF GLENDALE COMING?

Erection of Novel Block at Los Feliz and Central Is Started

Work started this morning on the northwest corner of Los Feliz road and Central avenue upon a $40,000 store and apartment building for Southern Glendale.

The contract was held by the George L. Kinding Construction company of 517 State street. The building is being erected for W. T. Jefferson of Pasadena.

The building, which will be of class A construction, will have a frontage of 65 feet on Los Feliz road and 88 feet on Central avenue.

A drug store, 25x40 feet in size, will occupy the corner. Adjoining it on Los Feliz road will be a room 25x46 feet, which probably will be occupied by a bank. Adjoining the drug store on Central avenue will be a store, 20x40 feet in size, and an open market 40x60 feet in size.

The second floor will contain six offices, eight two-room apartments and two single rooms with private bath. All will be modernly finished.

"The building will be curved on the corner," remarked Mr. Jefferson, "and the Central avenue front will be set back from the present building line ten feet, to the proposed new building line recently petitioned for to the city council by a majority of Central avenue property owners. This will give unusual parking space and add to the value of the proposed new theater site, adjoining this property on Los Feliz road."

"A feature of this building, which will mean much for the development of this neighborhood, will be an all-night drug store, so conducted as to make it famous as a refreshment stopping place for the 35,000 automobilists who pass here daily, most of whom are from nearby cities."

"It is expected that this all-night drug store, with perhaps one exception, the only one in Southern California, will be the start of Glendale's 'great white way,' and that Los Feliz road will now speedily fill up, from Brand boulevard to the Railroad street entrance to the depot, with theaters and amusement of all kinds, patronized largely by residents of nearby towns, who want the Los Angeles type of attractions but do not care to go into Los Angeles on account of traffic and parking conditions."

"It is claimed by theatrical managers that this section of Glendale combines the heaviest through traffic, together with the most ideal parking conditions and accessibility, more so than any other section within an equal distance of the Los Angeles business center."

KIWANIS STATE CONVENTION AT FRESNO FRIDAY

The Kiwanis state convention tomorrow at Fresno will be attended by several delegates from the local club who expect to elect Fred Deal of 237 North Louise street district governor. The trip to the convention city is being made by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deal, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Echols, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Andersen, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman P. Clark and A. L. Ferguson.

EGG BOYCOTT URGED ON CHICAGO HOUSEWIVES

[By Associated Press]
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—An egg boycott by housewives is urged by Joseph Ruskiewicz, secretary of city council's high cost committee, who charges that Chicago dealers are attempting to corner the egg market and create an artificial shortage that will boost prices to $1 a dozen.

Eggs are now selling at 80 cents a dozen in Chicago, although stores are bulging with 1,200,000 cases, or over 30,000,000 dozens, he said.

Seven dealers alleged to have combined, expect to make $3,000,000 before Christmas with "dollar eggs," according to Ray Lane, former attorney for the committee.

CHAIN STORE MANAGER TO ADDRESS KIWANIS CLUB

A. J. Stewart of Los Angeles, general manager of the Sam Seelig company, will be the speaker tomorrow noon before the Kiwanis club. The luncheon will be held in the Egyptian Village.

ENID, OKLAHOMA, COUPLE WEDDED IN GLENDALE

Rev. Clifford Cole of this city was honored Wednesday by being asked to officiate at the wedding of Miss Maxine Smoot and Lee Roy Semones of Enid, Okla., who have been in California attending the Sunday School convention at Whittier. The ceremony took place at 2:30 in the wedding room of the Christian church, the attendants being Mrs. Lois Evans of Pasadena and Misses Pearl Woodworth and Ellen Dickinson of Los Angeles. The double ring ceremony was rved.

The bride is the elementary superintendent of the national Sunday school work of the Christian church and is to do institute work in teaching a leadership training school in Hollywood December 3.

The bridegroom is a minister student in Phillips university in Enid. After a short honeymoon in Enid, the couple will return to Enid to finish the course which he is to complete in the spring, his bride remaining until December 15, after which she will join her husband in Enid.

MANY SCIOTS ARE AT CONVENTION IN SAN DIEGO

Band, Numbering Forty-five Members, Goes
Tomorrow

Wednesday's delegation elect from the Glendale pyramid of Sciots left for the convention which is being held in San Diego, the party including Toparch Harry Bennett and Mrs. Bennett, Proclamation W. E. Moody and Mrs. Moody, Scriber Richard E. Kinley and Mrs. Kinley, Marshall E. V. Jellison, Maxell Ralph E. Murdy and Mrs. Murdy, Sciots Thompson and Mrs. Thompson, and Miss Olive Middleton, queen of the Sciots circuit, who is being taken to San Diego as part of the perquisites of her queenship.

Friday afternoon the Sciots band of the Glendale pyramid will meet at Odell Fellows' hall and parade on Brand between 1:30 and 2:30. The musicians will be dressed in their new Egyptian uniforms which are very striking and attractive, consisting of purple fez, purple shirt and pantaloons, white shirt, ties and leggings. The forty-four that are going to San Diego to participate in the great parade and compete in the band contest, will en-train at 3:30 in the afternoon reaching San Diego at 6:30, where they will parade from the station to the hotel and attend the Sciots ball in the evening.

Saturday morning they will be in the great street parade in which 42 pyramids from all parts of the state will march attended by 12 bands. In the afternoon the band contest in two divisions, Class A and Class B will take place, the Glendale pyramid having entered 24 wonderful musicians for the Class A prize.

Col. John D. Fraser will lead the band in the parade as drum major, its conductor being William Osterman.

Sciots band members who are to go to San Diego are:

Wm. Osterman, director; "Chief" J. D. Fraser, drum major; C. O. Russell, manager and organizer; F. A. Turney, J. H. Toms, J. C. Burke, J. E. Housman, J. C. Lott and E. O. Russell, cornets; E. H. Klein, Arthur Yeager, Clive Yeager, R. M. Curns, Geo. Pierce, Wm. M. Conroy, R. L. Crossland, R. Kuykendall, Virgil Cordier, E. D. Crawford and H. G. Harrick, clarinets; E. W. Kingsley, Bert Potter, C. M. Burke and Harry Painter, bass; J. A. Becker and W. Jolley, baritone; Geo. Ferritti, bassoon; J. F. Johansson, R. P. Arnold, C. T. Palladine and R. B. Thomas, French horn; Wm. J. Wilson, cello; Earl Floyd, Edward Holzer, A. C. Currie, E. H. Gray and G. H. Conroy, saxophones; C. C. Bell, W. S. Murphy, L. W. Hubbard, C. C. Francis and Ralph Webster, trombones; E. F. Maxwell, piccolo and flute; R. W. Biddlecom and Wm. Bailey, drums.

PUPILS WILL PLAY WHILE EDUCATORS TALK

Schools will be closed Monday when grammar and high school teachers attend a session of institute in the big auditorium of Glendale Union high school. Principal speakers will be H. B. Wilson, superintendent of schools at Berkeley and Francis M. Fultz, former superintendent of schools at Santa Barbara.

BALL PARK IS NOW FAST NEARING COMPLETION

First Game to Be Played in It on Nov. 25th
With Shell Oil

Glendale's ball park is assuming a professional appearance and will be ready for the local team's first game at home on November 25 with the Shell Oil company team from Signal Hill.

The grandstand, which will accommodate 2500 spectators, is now nearing completion and will be finished Saturday. The entire field, comprising 4.1 acres, has been surrounded with a board fence eight feet high. Altogether about 80,000 feet of lumber will be used.

Parking space is being provided in the park for several hundred automobiles. These will be driven in through a passage under the grandstand and will be parked along the fence.

The field has been graded and soaked. Today the infield is being rolled and tomorrow the outfield will be covered with sod. This is on the premises already.

Grant E. Leischner of Inglewood and Frank A. Kerwin of Los Angeles, owners of the ball park, will make their future homes in Glendale.

GREAT CORPS OF SPEAKERS WILL CARRY OUT PLAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Organization of a great corps of 1200 speakers who will "sell" to American Legion members the idea of individual responsibility of citizenship resting upon the ex-service men has been announced by James Collins, state commander of the Legion.

"Individual responsibility to the community, state and nation" on the part of the legionnaires. This is to be the principal plank in the platform of endeavors of Commander Collins during the next year.

For many weeks since his elevation to the command of the Legion in California, Commander Collins has been working on his plan.

Morgan Keaton, state adjutant of the Legion, yesterday received from Collins an outline of the work which he hopes to accomplish during his term of office.

Back of Commander Collins' idea is a novel human-interest story.

Collins was a mess sergeant in the famous 91st or "Wild West" division during the World War. He came out of the service with a $1000 in debts hanging over his head.

Since his discharge from Uncle Sam's payroll Collins who in private life is a construction engineer, has amassed a fortune of many thousands dollars. His payroll averages better than $5,000 per week.

Upon the completion of the term as state commander, Collins who resides in Long Beach, plans to build a model community near Barstow, San Bernardino county, for ex-service men. He has already secured the land for this colony and will be ready with his plans before the end of the year.

P-T-A. FEDERATION, FIRST DISTRICT, MEETS TODAY

The meeting of the First District P-T-A. Federation was held today at the rooms of the board of education in Los Angeles at 10 a. m. Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, president of the Glendale Federation attended, and was accompanied by Mrs. H. V. Henry, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg and Mrs. Elwood C. Pomeroy of this city.

EDUCATION WEEK IS NEXT ON THE PROGRAM

As next week is Education week, members of the faculty of Glendale High will be hosts and hostesses at the meeting of the P-T-A. of that school, to be held Wednesday afternoon. The heads of departments will explain the educational value of those departments and how they were led to specialize on them.

CAPT. ROBERT MORRIS FREED IN WRECK INQUIRY

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 15.—Captain Robert Morris, who commanded destroyer division 33 on the night of the Honda wreck September 8, was acquitted of charges of negligence in suffering vessels of his organization to go aground, in a verdict read by the judge advocate of the general court martial today.

SHRINE CLUB'S SMOKER-FROLIC AT ATHLETIC CLUB

'Case' of 'Old Crow' Disposed of and Program of Sports Viewed

Defiance to Volstead and his kin were faunted by the Glendale Shrine club last night at a smoker in Hahn's auditorium at 109-A North Brand boulevard and a case of Old Crow was raffled off under the very nose of the purify squad. To make the matter worse, Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of police, and several of his minions were in attendance.

The case of Old Crow, however, consisted of an aged and decrepit rooster in a crate. He was won by C. E. Jones of 206 North Louise street who took him to his establishment at 125 North Brand boulevard, known as The Poppy Shopp. An athletic card had been arranged for the occasion by Lester Marston of 103 West Broadway, "The Tex Rickard of Glendale."

The main event was a "rassle" between Joe Polk of Los Angeles, former champion of the A. E. F., and Charles Olson of Chicago. A fall was obtained by Polk in seventeen minutes.

Johnny Myers of Glendale won the decision over Harry Wolfe, also of Glendale. Another boxing match ended in a draw. This was between Pete Essex and Young Kerwin.

A tincup fight between Andy Nelson and Vern Whitfield was the source of much amusement. Opponents were blindfolded and each held a tincup in one hand with which he sounded out his bearings. Plenty of cats were available. These consisted of "hot dogs," chili and non-alcoholic beverages.

W. C. T. U. MEETS FRIDAY WITH MRS. QUACKENBUSH

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Friday, November 16, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Quackenbush, 1119 East Colorado.

It is hoped that Mrs. Ruby Smart, president, who has been confined to her home by illness for several weeks, will be well enough to attend and preside. Mrs. O. F. Thompson will have charge of the Thanksgiving program and donations of fruit will be received for the Old Ladies' Home. Clothing is also desired for the W. C. T. U. sisters who lost everything in the earthquake in Japan. This can be left at the home of Mrs. Smart, 1110 Olive street, or with Mrs. Glascock on West California street.

LOYAL WOMENS CLASS TO MEET WITH MRS. H. E. COX

The monthly meeting of the Loyal Women's class of Central Christian church will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. E. Cox, 805 East Lomita. It is hoped every member will be present.

WEATHER

Southern California and valleys: Fair tonight and Friday; light northeasterly winds.

GLENDALE HOTEL WILL BE BUILT, SAY DIRECTORS

A meeting of stockholders of the Glendale Hotel company was held Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce with practically a full attendance. Mattison B. Jones, as president of the corporation, conducted the meeting and a full report was submitted by the board of directors of transactions at the 26 sessions the board has had to date.

As not all the bids are in, no figures as to the ultimate cost of building the projected hotel at the corner of California and Brand, could be given out. The directors expressed confidence in their ability to carry out the plans previously outlined.

Only One Timber Ash in California

There is just one timber ash in California, sometimes known as the Oregon ash, though found from Puget Sound to San Bernardino both in coast range and western Sierra canyons, along streams and in the open. The leaves are compound, with five to seven yellow-green leaflets, fuzzy underneath, two sorts of bloom occur on separate trees, only one forming the hanging clusters of the winged seeds.

Like the eastern ashes this tree forms in its rapid growing new shoots a tough elastic timber much valued by wood workers and once much sought for wagon tongues.

NAVY SEAPLANE FORCED DOWN AT LONG BEACH

LONG BEACH, Nov. 15.—Twelve men in a navy seaplane were forced to land in the surf in front of the Hotel Virginia this morning when the big ship developed engine trouble. Spot after the landing it was discovered that one of the pontoons was leaking and the crew and passengers were forced to bail with their caps. The load was lightened by sending five of the passengers ashore and they waded through the surf. The damage was repaired after several thousand persons had been attracted to the beach by the news of the mishap, and the plane sailed away in the direction of San Pedro. It is understood the plane was on its way to San Diego when it was forced down. No one was injured.

ST. MARK'S CHOIR IN SPECIAL MUSICAL SERVICE

Completion of the enlargement of St. Mark's Episcopal church, which has vastly improved the appearance of the edifice inside and out, and doubled the seating capacity of the auditorium and the guild hall, will be celebrated with a special musical service by members of the choir Sunday night. At that time "Inflammata" from "Stabat Mater" will be given by the choir, the soloists being: Mrs. Helen Graham Cole, soprano; Mrs. A. M. Draper, alto; A. M. Draper, bass, and Claude Whitfield, tenor, with Mrs. Florence Parker directing. A rehearsal will be held on Thursday night which it is hoped will be attended by every member of the choir.

MRS. MOORE ENTERTAINS MID-WEEK BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Wm. Moore of North Central avenue was hostess on Wednesday to the members of the Mid-Week Auction Bridge club. Those present included Mrs. Arthur Dibern, Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, Mrs. James Appfel, Mrs. Moore's sister, Mrs. Emma Batz, Mrs. Chester Kling, Mrs. G. P. Smith, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. W. E. Halstead, Mrs. Thimm and Mrs. Moore. High score was made by Mrs. Jones.

ARTS AND CRAFTS LADIES WORK ON FANCY ARTICLES

Members of arts and crafts section A. of which Mrs. H. A. McPherson is curator, spent the time of the regular meeting at the Tuesday Afternoon club on Friday completing work on fancy articles for the society circus to be held on Friday and Saturday of this week. Fancy articles made from ribbons, lamp shades and standards and many others will be among the section's display.

FATHERS AND SONS BANQUET AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The annual Fathers and Sons banquet the Men's class of Central Christian church will give to the boys of the school will be on Friday evening, November 16 at 7 o'clock. Considerably more than 100 tickets have been sold already, but more are available. All men who are friends of the church are invited to attend and bring their sons or some other man's son.

Southern California and valleys: Fair tonight and Friday; light northeasterly winds.

SCIOTS NATIONAL CONVENTION IN GLENDALE?

Toparch Bennett, Now at San Diego, Wires to Get Busy for 1925

The Sciots' national convention for 1925 is being invited to Glendale.

An invitation to hold this convention here was extended this morning by E. F. Sanders, secretary of the chamber of commerce, in behalf of the city council, Rotary club, Exchange club, Kiwanis club, Community Service and other civic organizations.

H. M. Bennett of 1717 Grand View avenue, toparch of the local pyramid, dispatched a telegram from the convention, now in session at San Diego, indicating that such an invitation might be accepted.

San Diego is crowded with Sciots according to Mr. Bennett. It is believed that the attendance is over 10,000.

Southwest Museum Attractions Nov. 17-18

A playlet by Children's Municipal Players, under the direction of Ellen Galpin, director municipal players, will be given at the "Children at Home" next Saturday morning, November 17, at 10:30 o'clock in the Southwest Museum, Avenue 46 and Marmon way.

Preceding the playlet, Mrs. Mayhew, a well known local artist will take the children through the art gallery and explain in an understandable manner some of the paintings in the present California painters' show.

The film of the morning will be "Pageantry of India," a revel in oriental gorgeousness.

Sunday afternoon, November 18, at 3:00 o'clock, Dora Gaster, well known artist, member of the California Art club, will speak at the Southwest Museum. Special emphasis on how to enjoy art in everyday life will be given in Madam Schuster's talk on "Art for Life's Sake."

The public is cordially invited to view the art show, to cast ballots on their favorite paintings and hear the art talk.

ARTICLES COMING IN FAST FOR HOPE CHEST

Fancy articles are coming in fast for the hope chest to be disposed of at the Tuesday afternoon club society circus on Friday and Saturday of this week. The chest was donated by the New England Furniture company and is on display in its window. Among the latest contributions was a merchandise order for $10 worth of goods from Pendroy's.

Special features are being added to the long list of attractions for the circus. Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe of the Oakmont riding stables are planning to send over a pony and attendant both for Friday and Saturday afternoons. Parents are as children to ride as the attendant will be with them all of the time.

Through the courtesy of the Glendale Cat club there will be a fine display of first-prize blooded cats and kittens.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of ways and means and who is in charge of the circus, announces that ticket holders desiring an opportunity to win the Ford automobile must deposit their tickets in the box at the circus grounds.

COUNCIL TO DISCUSS DRAINAGE CONTROL TONIGHT

Control of drainage over the fire-devastated area of the hills will be discussed in the committee of the whole tonight by the city council. County Forester Stuart J. Flintham is expected to be in attendance. Supervisor Henry W. Wright of South Pasadena has informed City Manager W. H. Roove that the county appropriation for the construction of check dams has been increased from $1500 to $2500. Mr. Reeves is of the opinion that this sum will be insufficient.

HON. JOSEPH SCOTT TO SPEAK TONIGHT, K. G. HALL

Tonight Hon. Joseph Scott, K. S. G., will give one of his wonderful talks before the local council, Knights of Columbus, in the club house at 330 East Lomita at 8 o'clock. There will also be a rare musical program by the Sutton trio. A full attendance of members of the Glendale and surrounding councils is anticipated.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 15.—An irresistible force met an immovable object at a downtown corner here and the donkey refused to budge.

A policeman was kicked and traffic on one of the busiest streets was held up 30 minutes. The irresistible force was the traffic law which forbids parking at corners, but the donkey had never read the law.

Motorcycle Patrolman George Murphy was kicked in the mid-section as he leaped from the hoofs the donkey had presented in place of the halter he sought to grab. He was not seriously hurt.

The law finally won by lassoing the beast and engaging in a tug of war. The owner of the balky quadruped has not as yet been located.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 15.—Starting for the Colorado Island target grounds before daylight this morning the U. S. destroyer Sumner went aground on a sand bank near San Diego marine base. Lieutenant Commander R. Muest was in command. Naval officials expect the Sumner will be pulled off at high tide today with no material damage.

MRS. WINTER SEES T. A. CLUB'S FINE NEW BUILDING

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, had the pleasure of showing Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs of the United States, through the local club house on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Winter was brought to Glendale by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles district federation, following the big meeting of the clubs of the district and also the luncheon at the Biltmore in Los Angeles earlier in the day. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, vice-president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, several members of the local executive board and some of the club members were at the club house when Mrs. Winter was there and extended hearty greetings to her.

Mrs. Winter was particularly interested in the manner by which the building of the club house was financed. She also enjoyed the pictures painted by Glendale artists that are hung in the banquet room this month. Mrs. Winter was allowed to choose a gift from the club, from among the articles of the arts and crafts department that were on display in a large case, her choice being a hand-painted jar. Pictures of the exterior and interior of the club house are to be mailed to her at her request.

GLENDALE LADIES GREET PRESIDENT CLUB FEDERATION

Mrs. Chas. H. Toll Presents Mrs. Winter to Club Members

Glendale was again honored in that a resident of this city, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, as president of the Los Angeles district federation of women's clubs, had the pleasure of presenting to the representatives from 173 clubs of the five counties of this district Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs of the United States, at a meeting held Monday morning at Trinity auditorium, Los Angeles.

Some of the highlights of Mrs. Winter's very inspiring talk were: "Homes should be places of rest, inspiration and love. The interests of peace should be stronger than the interests of war. The work that women put into the home is the fundamental labor of the United States. The unit of which government and society is made is the family. In the hands of women is the spiritual unit, the governmental unit and economic unit. We must make life human in the pursuit of happiness."

Among the members of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale who attended this big affair were Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. Hugh Blue, Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. G. Phillips, Mrs. Lee Strouse, Mrs. Wm. Hunter, Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. Lillian Dow, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, Mrs. F. S. Card, Mrs. H. C. Wilcox, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Mrs. R. A. Ballagh, Mrs. J. E. Sargent, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mrs. E. A. Lange, Mrs. D. E. Sanker, Mrs. W. W. Watson, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, Mrs. Luby, Mrs. M. M. Calderwood, Mrs. Hanscomb, Dr. Margaret York, Mrs. A. Barton, Mrs. Leroy Bosserman, Mrs. Charles Bosserman, Mrs. Eugene Gilliland, Mrs. David Black, Mrs. D. D. Henning, Mrs. H. A number of the Glendale clubwomen also attended the luncheon at the Biltmore hotel, following the morning's session, where covers were laid for over 700. At the morning meeting Mrs. J. C. Urquhart, president of the California federation and who has just returned from a two weeks' visit among the clubs in the northern part of the state, brought greetings from the north to Mrs. Winter and Mrs. Toll. Wednesday was a big day, not only in the fact that the president of the general federation was the guest of honor, but also in that it was the twenty-third anniversary of the district federation. The clubs of the district presented Mrs. Toll with a gavel. Mrs. Higgins, president of the Catholic Women's association of Los Angeles, was introduced by Mrs. Toll and presented Mrs. Winter with a huge basket of California fruits and flowers.

NOVEMBER 28 IS DATE SET FOR HI SENIOR HOP

Hard Worked Committees Will Help Make Dance Great Success

According to the seniors, the most brilliant hop of the year will take place in the girls' gym, Friday, November 28, promptly at 8 o'clock. All members of the school, faculty and alumni are cordially invited to be present.

This, besides from being the first of the three authorized dances of the year, promises to be one of the most important of the social events this season. It will be very hard for the juniors to outshine the seniors at their annual dance. Ted Haig, with the various committees of the dance, has been working hard the past two weeks to make this affair a big success. The best of everything available will be procured by the different committees, who will see that the famous tradition of "the wonderful senior dance" will be carried on with the class of '24.

Already the experience and ability of the different chairmen and committee members has been proven at other class entertainments. These people who make up the committees have already been willing workers at any school or class affair and much is expected from them at the dance.

Riots of autumn brilliancy will change the somber girls' gym into a wealth of color and beauty. Colors appropriate to the autumn season will be used, especially brown and yellow. Autumn leaves and bright paper chrysanthemums will be the special feature of the decorations.

Katherine Stofft and her committee have had several meetings and have been working very hard planning the decorations. The plan they have chosen is very novel and can be worked out effectively. Those on the committees are Sarah Allen, Hugh Weaver, Irvin Carver and Arlin McCormack.

Vesta Morrow, chairman of the refreshment committee, has appointed Evelyn Curren, Dante La Franchi and Harwin Mann to help her. Although not definitely decided upon what the refreshments will be, Vesta has chosen four girls to serve, who will be in charming costumes appropriate for the occasion.

Programs will be taken care of by Sarah Chandler, chairman; Dorothy Houston, Doris Osmun and George McCauley. The programs will be entirely new this year and, although not definitely decided upon, will probably correspond with the decorations.

Music and entertainment, which will be the best obtainable, will be arranged by Lois Naudain, chairman; Winnie Parker, Lucille Allen and Harold Jones.

Invitations will be written by Margaret Longley and Mary Stanley, and the floor will be taken care of by Les Hatch, Thomas Woods and Lee Payne.

All of the committees met with Ted Haig yesterday afternoon to decide finally on everything for the dance, especially financial matters.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL ITEMS

Mrs. H. B. Ellis and Mrs. J. D. Hamm, both of 231 1/2 North Brand boulevard, have returned from a motor trip to the Bay region. Mrs. Hamm visited relatives in San Francisco while Mrs. Ellis visited in Oakland and spent several days in Carmel-by-the-Sea. "The roads are wonderful," reports Mrs. Ellis, who is on a vacation from her duties at the postoffice. "I never saw the country more beautiful. The weather was just fine."

Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery, Miss Olive Bell Emery, Gilbert Emery and Clarence Smith were guests at dinner on Tuesday night of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Emery of 610 Myrtle street. Mrs. Emery also entertained with a dinner party recently in celebration of the birthday anniversary of her husband and also of her niece, Patricia Jane Babson, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Babson, were also guests.

Mrs. R. D. Angelica of 418 Raleigh street entertained as her guests at luncheon and dinner on Wednesday her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Hanger, Mrs. Jack Fowler and daughter, Betty Jean and Jacqueline, of Hollywood and Mrs. E. A. Augustin.

Clarence Smith of Berkeley has been the house guest of his cousin, Owen Emery and wife of 610 West Myrtle street.

R. D. Angelica of 418 Raleigh street, is in San Francisco on a business trip.

EMERSON SCHOOL GIVES RADIO PROGRAM TONIGHT

J., from 6:45 to 7:30 p.m. The performers will be Mrs. Reta Rhodes and Alce Badger in "Carrie Studies 'The Calliope';" "When Women Rule in 1975;" Adele Loyd, 10 years of age; piano; Mrs. R. W. Cleghorn, with Miss Long at the piano; reading by Robert Rhodes, nine years of age; piano solo by Miss Long.

Y. M. C. A. WORTHY CANDIDATE FOR CHEST SUPPORT

The Young Men's Christian association, which is participating in the Welfare Chest drive, has a varied and well-worth-while program to commend it to the support of the people of Glendale.

While our city has not erected a building to house this splendid institution the following report shows what has been accomplished among the boys without having the facilities that most city Y. M. C. A.'s have.

The Hi-Y built a garage for a widowed lady furnishing all labor and part of the material. At Christmas time the clubs made up baskets of food and distributed them to needy families. Thirty-three dollars was given by the boys for work with boys of other hands. Thirty-five dollars was given by the boys to send two high school boys to the College Men's Conference at Asilomar. Fifteen dollars was given by one club to send an underprivileged boy to camp. Old clothes were collected for students in Russia.

Four hundred and eighteen boys were taken to the Pasadena Y. M. C. A. to pass swimming tests. Six week-end camps were held at the Y. M. C. A. cabin in the San Gabriel canyon. Easter vacation trips to the channel islands. Many winter roasts, camp fire picnics and hikes were taken. One hundred and fifty-five boys attended three summer camps of eleven day periods at Catalina. Seventy-three boys had physical examinations.

Educational trips were taken to the Los Angeles Daily Times, Wilson Packing Co., Castown Ostrich Farm, Graves Bush and Door Works, Bradford Bakery, Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., and the U. S. Battleship Tennessee. Dr. J. Anderson spoke to 274 boys on personal hygiene. Dr. M. B. Rethford spoke to 2500 boys and girls on the harmful use of tobacco. Two father and son banquets with an attendance of 600.

Twenty-seven clubs composing a membership of 324 boys were in Bible study groups. Seventeen boys joined the church and many said they wanted to live Christian lives, but for one reason and another could not join a church. Nine boys were turned over to the Sunday school as teachers. Harry Rimmer was brought to Glendale for a six-day period of meetings and spoke to 3325 boys and girls with an Evangelistic message.

ATHLETIC CLUB DANCING PARTY SATURDAY NIGHT

On Saturday night the Glendale Athletic club will hold a dancing party at Habn's auditorium, 109 North Brand boulevard, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. This will be in the form of a "Novelty dance" and some special features are being planned. Music will be furnished by Jerry Parker's orchestra.

FOR ITS HAVING THE LARGEST CIRCULATION—

THE more business you go after, the larger your business grows. The vital force in business today is advertising—advertising that is so simple that it is easily understood; advertising that is so strong that it leaves an indelible impression upon your readers' mind; advertising that is so convincing that it gives the reader the impulse to buy.

In advertising, today, the greater number of people you reach, the more telling effect your advertising has, and, consequently, the more merchandise you sell.

To reach a certain number of readers, you must pay a certain fixed sum, and a few cents more buys more than 50% more readers.

When your advertisement appears in the Glendale Daily Press, you are guaranteed that it reaches more than 7000 readers. See affidavit. Guaranteed circulation statement made MUST BE TRUE.

Circulation Statement of the Glendale Daily Press

I, Dwight K. Mitchell, Circulation Manager of the Glendale Daily Press, do hereby swear and affirm the net paid circulation of the Glendale Daily Press to be Seventy-one hundred and ten (7110) this 1st day of November, 1923.

SUPT. R. D. WHITE ADDRESSES P.-T. A. FEDERATION

Ernest Tucker Makes Very Good Suggestion to Members

Superintendent Richardson D. White was the speaker of the day at the meeting of the Federation of Parent-Teacher associations held at the chamber of commerce Wednesday afternoon and satisfactorily answered some of the most common criticisms of the present day common school system.

Mrs. H. V. Henry quoted criticism she had heard of the membership of Glendale P.-T. A. and the charge that they do not know what they are organized for or expected to do. She admonished the presidents present to save up their problems and present them to the local federation where they can secure help in solving them.

Mrs. Crawford, chairman of membership, reported that returns to date indicated a membership of 1550, but that drives are in progress in several schools that have not reported.

Ernest Tucker, director of Community Service, invited the federation to provide one of the monthly community service programs and suggested that each association put on a stunt, to be kept a secret from all the other associations. He also suggested that it be given in the new auditorium of the high school, which he expected would be completed by the time set for the entertainment. Presidents seemed to favor the idea and promised to bring it before their several associations. The December program is to be furnished by the Tuesday club, and in January the Rotary club will provide it.

Mr. Tucker also suggested a "majority" or "citizenship" party to celebrate the coming of age, in a legal sense, of the young men and women of Glendale. He thought it would be a good thing for the P.-T. A. to promote in the several neighborhoods of the thirteen schools and thus emphasize the importance of the event as the Romans celebrate when a young man became a Roman citizen.

Mrs. E. B. Moore, president, announced that she had been appointed a major in the campaign for the community welfare chest, and called for volunteer workers to assist in the drive.

Mrs. Myrtle Buckman of Grand View, chairman of Better Films committee, said she had written the state chairman for instructions in regard to promoting better films in Glendale.

In his address Mr. White stated that leading criticism of the elementary schools of today is that the children are taught too many things and as a result are not as well grounded in fundamentals as the children of a former generation. In answer he said views had changed in regard to what are fundamentals. Originally music was not taught in the public schools, but its introduction has created an appreciation of good music, notwithstanding the popularity of jazz, that did not exist 20 years ago. Also, that the standard of taste had been raised in the homes of America in decoration and furnishings because of the art education in the schools. Some things in the curriculum might be eliminated, but our views relative to essentials are changing, he declared.

Answering the declaration that the schools cost too much, he quoted a variety of statistics, for example: The national wealth of the United States in 1920 was $250,000,000,000. Of this amount $1,036,000,000 was expended for education. Our income for the year 1920 was $70,000,000,000, of which we spent 1.48 percent for education, not as much as the average auto owner expends on the care of his machine. For soft drinks we spent $1,350,000,000 and for perfumery and cosmetics, $750,000,000. Admissions to theaters and dues paid to organizations aggregated $800,000,000, or 8-10 as much as we paid for education. We spent a little over twice as much for tobacco as we invested in schools. According to government figures, the total cost of the luxuries in which the people of the United States invested during the year 1920 was $17,361,000,000, against the $1,036,000,000 spent for education.

ARTISTS' SECTION MUSIC CLUB MEETS FRIDAY EVENING

Members of the artists' section of the Glendale Music club will hold their second meeting on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. C. C. Cooper, 302 North Central avenue. The topic for the evening will be "English Music." Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman will read a paper on "English Composers." The program will also include the following: piano solo, "Scherzo in B Flat Minor" (Sidney Rosenbloom), by Miss Monica Craig; group of English songs by Mrs. Charles A. Parker, violin solos by Miss Hazel Linkogel, "Melody and Nigger Dance" from "Pallahasse Suite" (Cyril Scott), "Vespere" (Cyril Scott) and "Deep River" (Coolidge Taylor); baritone solos by Mr. Williams, "War" (James Rogers) and "Song of Thanksgiving" (Francis Allitsen). Miss Gertrude Cleophas is curator of the artists' section.

AFFILIATION NOT FAVORED BY B. & P. WOMEN'S CLUB

Members of the Glendale Business and Professional Women's club were delightedly entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. Elizabeth Early, 225 North Isabel, for the regular monthly business session of the full club.

The chief business of the evening concerned reports submitted by Dr. Laura Brown of two special committees of which she was chairman. The first report concerned possible affiliation of the business women's club with the Tuesday Afternoon club, by the organization of a section which her committee had been authorized to investigate. Her report showed that such a section under the Tuesday Afternoon club would be permitted to entertain outsiders only once a year and that all its earnings would have to be turned in to the Tuesday club treasury. Dr. Brown stated that 34 members of the Tuesday club are also members of the Business Women's club.

The advantages and handicaps of such an affiliation were discussed and the vote upon the matter was unanimous against any further negotiations along that line, members arguing that the mission of the business women's club could be better fulfilled by an independent existence.

Dr. Brown also reported for the nominating committee appointed to secure candidates for the office of president which had become vacant through the resignation of Miss Gibbs and Dr. Jessie Russell was introduced as nominee and unanimously elected.

Dr. Jessie Russell explained in general her hopes for the club and the sort of co-operation she would expect from officers and committees and said she would call a special meeting of the cabinet which was later set for Monday evening, November 19, at her home.

A committee on revision of the constitution was also named, composed of Dr. Russell, chairman; Miss Lillian Meddick, and Mrs. Josephine Woolsey, which will report to a special meeting called by the president and be prepared to submit constitutional amendments to be acted upon at the regular business session in December.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess and the program of the evening was presented—two fine readings by Mrs. J. M. Eyerick, "Shake's Telephone" and "Sambo's Dilemma," and charming solo dances by Little Evelyn Lawrence, a Spanish dance, a French dance, and a "shimmy."

READING CIRCLE MEETING YESTERDAY AT LIBRARY

Regular meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle of Glendale was held at the city library yesterday with Mrs. H. V. Henry presiding. Mrs. H. H. Harris had the review on one of the articles on "Twelve Tests of Character." Mrs. Henry continued reading from the book, "Play and Education" (Lee). Next week the meeting will be "Old Members' Day" and all who have ever been members of the circle will be special guests for the day.

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO GIVE DANCE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Mrs. F. J. Willett, chairman of the dance committee, has completed arrangements for the dancing party to be given Friday night by the Glendale Pythian Sisters. The affair will take place at 9 o'clock at the K. P. hall, corner of South and K. P. hall, corner of South and Brand boulevard and Park avenue. Music will be furnished by the California Oriole orchestra. Everyone is welcome. Prizes for waiting and fox-trotting will be awarded.

MARTHAS OF W. R. C. HOLD SESSION YESTERDAY

Members of the Kensington club who are the "Marthas" of the W. R. C. in that they work to earn money to meet calls made upon the corps for the relief of veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and world wars, or other needs, held a session Wednesday at G. A. R. hall at which an excellent report of the finances of the club was submitted by the treasurer. A group of members who had filled a hurry-up order for a comforter between meetings, reported not only the regular fee but 50c extra earned for the fund. No refreshments were served but the afternoon proved a very pleasant one socially and a comforter ordered by Mrs. Milligan was completed.

CREATIVE SECTION MUSIC CLUB TO MEET TONIGHT

Residents of Glendale interested in creative work along the line of music, poetry and the arts are invited to be present at a meeting of the creative section of the Glendale Music club to be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the home of the curator, Mrs. James Ballagh, 308 North Louise street.

PROTECTION BY ZONING

The idea on which city zoning is based is the protection of property owners. The man who has a home is defended against the possibility of having a junkyard established next to his premises. The business and shopping districts are made safe against the invasion of noisy and smoky factories. Industrial districts have greater freedom in selection of sites adjacent to trackage. Thus the zoning system is beneficial to all concerned. If in instances it seems to work a hardship, the case is exceptional, and does not afford sufficient reason for setting aside a good rule.

These facts concerning zoning are the elements entering into harmonious growth. They permit expansion along harmonious lines, and in the end they contribute to the welfare of all classes of building.

It is interesting to notice that 40 per cent of the urban population, or 22,000,000 people, live in the 183 zoned cities or towns. At the beginning of the year the total was 129. This growth is pretty sound evidence that the system is gaining popularity. Naturally there is some opposition. This is not invariably so, but objections are frequent. It may happen that some mistake has been made, and has to be rectified. No protest has been able in any case to upset the plan in its entirety, and seldom has there been a modification. The abolition of zoning would be a calamity to which no community would be likely to submit.

SUICIDE FOR CIVILIZATION

One pastor stated in his Armistice day sermon that war was the suicide of civilization. It was his belief that the social structure could not survive another world struggle. Accepting this view, war must, as he affirmed, be regarded as the suicide of civilization. And the view is one that is sustained by every circumstance within observation.

It was fitting that the preachers should have devoted the day to accentuating the desirability of peace. In order to do this it was necessary for them to portray the horrors of war; not alone its physical effect, but its spiritual. The only justification for war must be when it is for the purpose of beating back a foe that is not amenable to reason. A self-respecting nation would expel the invader. It could not do otherwise.

The soul of Attila still marches on. The impulse of savagery dominates a share of human impulse. The lust for power has not been curbed. There are peoples that are not content with the prosperity that might be their portion were they to drop utterly the policy of aggression. They covet their neighbors' goods. They do not desire to live in amity with other peoples, but to dominate them. They are possessed of the insanity of greed. Europe today is torn by senseless hatreds, the fruits of war and of the spirit that engenders war.

Normal Angell years ago wrote an interesting book to show that war was impossible, by reason of the financial cost. The red tide of 1914 washed his optimistic figures into oblivion. War was possible then, and it is possible still. It will remain possible so long as men cherish envy, and have selfishness as a creed. It is the human heart that needs changing. The preacher is in the ideal position for sounding this truth into the ears of men and women.

Every recurring anniversary of Armistice day will carry the lesson. The clash of arms that jarred the fabric of government, and changed tranquil citizens into fierce fighting units, will be recalled anew. And even as the memory of the heroic dead is being honored, the truth will come to mind that the sacrifice they made so nobly was futile. They had thought they were establishing peace. For themselves they won the peace of the grave. For the world they won a mere truce in which another tragedy even more stupendous, leading perhaps to the crash of the whole edifice of culture and achievement, might be planned.

The citizens of various countries are patriotic. The love of country is instinctive and of value. That love of one country should occasion desire to despoil another country, is a grotesque and illogical proposition. The voice of the collective citizenry of all nations is for peace. But how to make this voice effective; how to instill into the collective intelligence, the beliefs of the individuals; how to prevent diplomacy from the crime of war; these are great and grave points for consideration.

The preacher shows the way, but who will follow? Long ago it was shown by the Golden Rule.

BASED ON ASSASSINATION

Prof. Sorokine of Prague, until recently a resident of Russia, says that since 1918 between 500,000 and 600,000 have been massacred by order of the communist leaders. The figures quoted by Dr. Sorokine were based on statistics furnished by the soviet themselves. The doctor, also said, he being on the witness stand and under oath, that in that period there had been a decrease of at least 16,000,000 in the population of Russia. These are rather grim and significant figures.

Were an epidemic to attack the most populous of nations and kill half a million of its people, the world would be agast at the spectacle. Here was a man-made epidemic more fatal than plague or fever. Its victims were selected from among the intelligent. The ignorant and the boorish were spared, for they were directing the campaign of horror.

These statistics are worth remembering. Before long congress will be in session. There will be reports made by various statesmen who have been visiting Russia. The reports will be in accordance with the bolshevist desire, for the statesmen, whether or not they knew it, were in Russia as the instruments and tools of bolshevism. They were induced to go by promoters of bolshevism in the United States, and they were the fated guests of the red-handed bolshevists after reaching the domain of the soviet. They doubtless will emphasize such points as seemed to them to be good, and will ignore the vital points, which were concealed from them.

If they can give any facts to justify the direct murder of half a million, and the effacement of other millions through starvation in a land of plenty, these would be heard with interest.

All is well that ends well—with the exception of wasps, hornets, etc.

THINK A BIT—THINK A BIT

By LOUISE LAWTON LINDSEY

Yesterday I talked with a man whose business is to prosecute offenders, i. e., misdemeanants.

The work of the courts has of late been especially heavy and many repeaters are daily receiving their habitual "$30 or $50 days" from "their honors."

Said the prosecutor who is a thoughtful citizen:

"It costs a lot to keep a man in jail periodically through the natural period of his life. Looks to me as if the city ought to figure out some way to take care of repeaters that would cost less than trying them every so often."

And I, to clarify the discussion, asked:

"Aren't the repeaters generally morons?"

"Of course," rapped back the prosecutor, "but locking him up in jail doesn't improve his mentality—does it?"

One must agree that it does not, and I thought of the prosecutor's comments when this morning I picked up the paper and read the results of some of Rupert Hughes' investigations into the divorce evil.

Mr. Hughes has found that 17 millions of dollars are annually paid out in alimony.

One might write a very profitable book on those figures.

Then he found that in 19 states there are no laws prohibiting the marriage of the feeble-minded, and he might with truth have added that the average untalented citizen will argue furiously that by forbidding the marriage of the feeble-minded we would be "doing violence to man's natural rights."

In 17 states he found no minority marriage age, and he found other things quite as grave.

We will let Mr. Hughes rest a moment while we examine an item in another paper. It records the arrest of a criminal assault charge of a young chap who declares that he "doesn't take much stock in scientific theories."

He naturally wouldn't. His alleged victim is a girl of 15. Testimony tends to show that when a small child she suffered a severe attack of meningitis, since which she has been a continuous moral problem to school authorities.

Now the alleged assaulter who "takes no stock in scientific theories" wants to marry this girl made abnormal by illness. Marriage is more comfortable than jail, especially as a man can run away if things get uncomfortable in marriage, which is one of the advantages it has over jail.

But will marriage cleanse the spirit of a man who commits assault?

Will it make normal the victim of meningitis whose moral judgment has been twisted in the furnace of disease?

Will marriage miraculously make normal and sane, healthy and safe the offspring of such a mating?

Link up the story of the misdemeanants in police court, the repeaters and the story of the wild girl and the man who "doesn't take much stock in scientific theories" with the facts unearthed by the indefatigable and social minded Mr. Hughes and connect the whole with your tax bill.

It may modify both your views on taxes and those on personal liberty.

In the middle ages they tried dumb beasts for crimes and solemnly pronounced on their punishments to be later inflicted by the executioners.

We've got beyond that—a little. We still jail morons to improve their minds and marry degenerates to improve the race; and we feel almost virtuous when we do either.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

And you another war of independence. He is living in his conviction that he is free-born and twice anointed and that the powers shall not put upon him merely because they are powers. I honor Jimmy for these many sentiments. Personally, I find it easier—and safer—to submit to tyranny and oppression. The policeman in plain clothes met Jimmy as he was marching toward his car.

"Hey, you," said the policeman, "what'sa you got in that grip?"

"Who are you?" asked Jimmy, bristling.

"Nevva you mit' wao I am," said the policeman in plain clothes. "Jus you show me what'sa you got in that grip, see?"

So Jimmy said that he would do no such thing. "If you are not a policeman," he said, "this is an internal piece of impudence on your part. If you are a policeman, I insist that you speak with courtesy and not as if I were a runaway convict dragging a ball and chain."

The policeman shook Jimmy.

"I am not a policeman," said Jimmy. "If you think I am a policeman, the law put me under arrest. If you do not think I am a policeman, the law you have no right to interfere."

Therefore, the policeman looked hurriedly around, found the street clear at the time, and let Jimmy in the tight eye. Then he arrested him on a charge of resisting arrest. At the police station the value was found to contain books.

Before he got through a police commissioner and a captain and a sergeant and the plain clothes degenerate to improve the race, and we feel almost virtuous when we do either.

But his eye was black for two weeks. The blood of martyrs is the seed of the church, without a doubt. That is why most of us are such poor church members.

THE LISTENING POST

Somebody some time said that it was easy enough to be pleasant when life went by like a song.

True enough.

JAMES W. FOLEY

That learning comes often only from bitter sorrow.

How much better it would be if learning came from gladness.

For gladness is so much better than sorrow. The flower is so much more beautiful than the thorn.

Smiles are so much more delightful than tears.

Happiness is so much more to be desired than woe.

So the philosophers preach the virtue of trial, not because there is anything beautiful about woe, but because something beautiful often comes from it.

And things beautiful might come from gladness if we would have it so.

It is by need that we learn value.

The need of food teaches us the value of it. The need of warmth teaches us the comfort of it.

The need of shelter teaches us the gladness of it.

Songs of the Poets

The Bird and the Lover—Richard Le Gallienne in Munsey's Magazine

Sweetheart, there is a bird out there Who makes it harder still for me This distance from your side to bear.

His song is like your loosened hair, And hath in its liquidity

So pure a thrill, I think that he Sings of your fair remembered face,

That passed once through this leafy place— With that ecstatic note

Welling like tears from his small magic throat. Would I might learn from him the art

Of such high music! When apart, Then might I or my sorrow make

And having learned what it means to be deprived of food and warmth and shelter, we develop sympathy for those who have them not.

And a desire to help.

So trial develops understanding. As gladness might develop it if we would.

It is rather sad that it needs sorrow to soften our spirits and make them gentle.

When the gladder spirits ought to be the most generous.

The kindest. The gentlest.

Because they have so much to be generous and kind and grateful about.

And the same writer who spoke of the ease of pleasure in prosperity said that the man worth, while was the man who could smile when things go wrong.

And do you? Can you?

What is your nature anyway?

When things go wrong do you fret? Pout? Rail and scold?

Beat the floor of the world with a broom, so to speak?

Or do you meet the trial and face it and overcome it?

The world often goes dead wrong. Or we help it to go wrong.

More likely the latter.

Most of our attitudes and trials are of our own making.

And as we make them, so we can unmake them if we will.

But it takes courage. Resolution.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

A hater of cats and dogs urges people, if they must have pets, to acquire a goldfish.

There is no reason that comes to mind for taking the advice of any hater of cats and dogs. There is something wrong with him. Nature has omitted from his composition some element essential to the rounding out of an admirable character.

About once in so often there appear heated denunciations of the cat as a purveyor of disease. A lover of cats takes here and now the privilege of saying that this is bunk. There is nothing in it; it is the expression of a baseless form of cowardice. Some people get so carried away by fear of germs that they decline to touch a doorknob or a street car strap. The poor things. And the same persons rail against the cat.

A few months ago a comely, devoted and intelligent police dog belonging to the household of the writer, was shot by some low-flung villain who would be far better than he, is, had the high principles, the sense of decency, the conception of friendship, that were inherent in the good dog he killed.

The dog poisoner is the meanest type of human being known. Yet the poisoning of the mind in relation to dogs is an offense only less brutal than the poisoning of the dogs.

And a goldfish is not a pet. It may be an ornament, it may divert a mind easily diverted, but it takes no hold on the affections. The goldfish may occupy a place in the esteem of the owner, but in that tiny place never had there been room of either cat or dog.

Bootleggers of Chicago have taken to the slaughter of each other. They do this by means of guns, rather than by treating the fœmen to the sort of liquor they sell. While the latter course would be more fatal, it is not practicable. No bootlegger would drink the stuff.

While the gangs continue to shoot with reasonable accuracy, missing the innocent bystander, opposition to their methods will not be emphatic. The bootlegger who suffers the mischance of being killed in the course of business gets only that which he is ready to deal out indiscriminately to patrons.

If there is a method by which raw celery may be eaten in silent unostentatious society would be benefited by the publication of it. Celery is too audible. The consumption of it jars on the sensitive ear. Recently a man and woman, quarreled and quit after thirty-five years of married life. The domestic turmoil he created every time he crunched his favored celery had worn out her nerves.

The tide of joy that rises nocturnally in the roadhouse, seems to have reached high-water mark, and to be receding.

No sooner a party seated snugly at a table, and liquids taken from the hip been poured, than prohibition officers, wholly without pretense of invitation, are likely to join the group. The visitors slip the evidence into their pocket, the sinners into patrol wagons, handcuffing them first, if they get too gay, and that breaks up the party.

As a rule the female guests are not disturbed, except in their minds, but they are getting the habit lately of scratching, and they are promised a handcuffing next time, and a ride in the patrol.

"Somebody is always taking the joy out of life," says the cartoonist, and he seems to be right.

He had represented himself, affirmed the wife who sought divorce, as a gentleman of good habits and morals and of social and financial standing. Within an hour after the wedding she had discovered that he was an embosomer, a liar, shy on morals, and socially and financially of no standing whatever.

One hesitates to approach with a proffer of sympathy. It is so wise to become acquainted with a man before marrying him, that omission of the formality shows a singular lack of gumption. There always is a penalty for acting the fool.

As mentioned heretofore, some reporter has been buzzing from one giant intellect to another with the question "When is a kiss sinful?"

It was supposed to be quite unanswerable, but since dope fiends have acquired the habit of transferring poison by means of fervid osculation, that seems to be the answer.

Now it is a German scientist who announces the discovery of a medicine capable of conquering old age, and changing the grimace of senility to the winning smile that wreaths the face of babyhood. Only a short time ago similar announcement by a French doctor cheered the credulous aged. Now the choice between the remedies is possible, and each patient may follow his political sympathies in making it. The nature of the choice will lead to no real difference, the two dopes doubtless being equally ineffective.

Long ago a worthy poetess warbled "Backward, turn backward O Time in your flight!" Did Time act favorably on the proposition? Not a turn.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

"THE FORCED CHILD"

Forced children are growing commoner. They are different from the older sort of spoiled children but not a bit better and quite as distressing to the teacher who understands what they mean.

One of them appeared in school lately. She was eight years old and asking for admission to the last year of elementary school. She had been forced along through the grades and because she was easy to teach, because she was as obedient and lent herself to the process, she had followed a line of study that would enable her to pass examinations in the grades and scurry along.

"You're a bit young for that grade," said the teacher.

"Oh, that's an old idea! I have done the work of the grades below and that is all that is necessary, isn't it?"

"Not quite! Have you read much? For instance, do you know Anderson's Fairy Tales?"

"We took up the Ugly Duckling. I know that one. It's the type story and from it I got a fair idea of Anderson."

"I see. You didn't enjoy reading him any further?"

"Perhaps I might have, but of course there wasn't time for much of any one subject. We studied types, you know."

"Yes, yes! Geography now, you know a good deal of geography?"

"I know the continents and oceans, of course, and the physical geography in outline. We took typical cities and that gave an idea of each country. London for England, Paris for France, you see."

"History?"

"We did that in biography mostly. I know Washington, a little about his life, and Lincoln, and Napoleon and Alexander the Great and Joan d'Arc and King John. Like that."

"Yes, yes. Grammar now. Know any grammar?"

"We never studied grammar. Only used the language. You see we used outlines largely."

"I see. How did that work for spelling, for instance?"

"Spelling is incidental. I didn't spell so very well, but the teacher didn't correct spelling. We learn that as we go along."

"Well, we'll try to get you in, but it looks to me as though you'd have to have a special program. However, we'll see."

What we saw was a child very much messed up in matters of the ordinary curriculum. She had scraps of information that lay around loose, unassociated with any other scrap and without foundation in experience.

But she was hurrying on to make a record. She would enter college younger than any other girl in her circle. Outlines were the thing. Types were all that was necessary. When we suggested that school was a place to grow in and that children, according to the great authority, Robert Louis, grow very slowly, she left us.

She had no sense of humor, no sense of childhood. She was scurrying past it all on the back of an outline. Pitiful!

EDUCATION WEEK TO BE OBSERVED NOV. 18 TO 24

Plans of the American Legion for the observance of American Education Week, November 18 to 24, have been completed. President Coolidge has recently called the attention of all citizens to American Education Week as a part of the program for the American Legion in promulgating American ideas.

The American Legion has asked that each day be specially observed and has made out a list of titles for every day in the week. Monday is to be "Constitution Day," Tuesday, "Patriotic Day," Wednesday, "School and Teacher Day," Thursday, "Literacy or Americanization Day," and "Community Day," is Friday.

Because of the fact that Monday is a holiday on account of teachers institute, the program for Monday and Tuesday will be combined. Tuesday will be "Constitution and Patriotism Day" at G. U. H. S. There will be assemblies held on Thursday. These assemblies will be put on by the English department and will be on the topics suggested by the American Legion. The chief interest of Education Week is to be centered on Wednesday, when all parents are especially invited and urged to visit the school. There is to be a P. T. A. meeting in the afternoon, and it is hoped that many of the parents will be able to attend as the program is to be an unusually good one, furnished by the teachers.

In connection with Education Week there is to be a speakers' bureau maintained which will send representatives to the different business men's organizations to bring before them the real purpose of Education Week.

The American Legion is asking that all the ministers of the different churches observe Education Week in their churches. Sunday will be known as "For God and Country Day."

Miss Hill and Mr. Rolfe are in charge of the arrangements.

G. M. Zimmerman of Ligonier, Indiana, is expected to arrive in Glendale today to visit his daughter, Mrs. H. D. Stone of 700 East Lomita avenue. He will spend the winter here.

PRESIDENT CALVIN COOLIDGE'S THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

By the President of the United States of America—A Proclamation:

"The American people, from their earliest days have observed the wise custom of acknowledging each year the bounty with which Divine Providence has favored them. In the beginnings, this acknowledgment was a voluntary return of thanks by the community for the fruitfulness of the harvest. Though our mode of life has greatly changed, this custom has always survived. It has made Thanksgiving Day not only one of the oldest but one of the most characteristic observances of our country. On that day, in home and church, in family and in public gatherings, the whole nation has for generations paid the tribute due from grateful hearts for blessings bestowed."

"To center our thought in this way upon the favor which we have been shown has been altogether wise and desirable. It has given opportunity justly to balance the good and the evil which we have experienced. In that we have never failed to find reasons for being grateful to God for a generous preponderance of the good. Even in the least propitious times a broad contemplation of our whole position has never failed to disclose overwhelming reasons for thankfulness. Thus viewing our situation, we have found warrant for a more hopeful and confident attitude toward the future."

"In this current year we now approach the time which has been accepted by custom as most fitting for the calm survey of our estate and the return of thanks. We shall the more keenly realize our good fortune if we, in deep sincerity, give to it due thought and more especially, if we will compare it with that of any other community in the world."

"The year has brought to our people two tragic experiences which have deeply affected them. One was the death of our beloved President Harding, which has been mourned wherever there is a realization of the worth of high ideals, noble purpose and unselfish service carried even to the end of supreme sacrifice. His loss recalled the nation to a less captious and more charitable attitude. It sobered the whole thought of the country. A little later came the unparalleled disaster to the friendly people of Japan. This called forth from the people of the United States a demonstration of deep and humane feeling. It was wrought into the substance of good works. It created new evidences of our international friendship which is a guarantee of world peace. It replenished the charitable impulse of the country. "By experiences such as these, men and nations are tested and refilled. We have been blessed with much of material prosperity. We shall be better able to appreciate it if we remember the privations others have suffered and we shall be the more worthy of it if we use it for their relief. We will do well then to render thanks for the good that has come to us and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser and truer by the chastenings which have been imposed upon us. We will thus prepare ourselves for the part we must have in a world which forever needs the full measure of service. We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most generous people. We have been a most blessed people. We ought to be a most thankful people."

"Wherefore I, Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States, do hereby fix and designate Thursday, the 29th day of November, as Thanksgiving Day and recommend its general observance throughout the land. It is urged that the people gather in their homes and their usual places of worship, give expression to their gratitude for the benefits and blessings that a gracious providence has bestowed upon them and seek the guidance of Almighty God that they may deserve a continuance of his favor. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set by hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States."

"Done at the city of Washington, this fifth day of November, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-eighth."

"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

ALLEGED NAVY DESERTER TAKEN TO SAN PEDRO
R. E. Welch was taken from Glendale to San Pedro yesterday by Detective W. J. Royle and Patrolman J. H. Lauritzen to answer a charge of having deserted from the navy. He was arrested yesterday afternoon at 207 West Lexington drive where he was in hiding.

REALTY BOARD TO GET BEHIND WELFARE CHEST

The Glendale Realty board at its meeting yesterday voted unanimously to get behind the community chest drive to be held November 20 to 23, and to do everything possible to further the cause. Burton McGinnis appeared in favor of this proposition.

Echos of the reception to new members to the board were heard, these including an apology by Cam Thom and acknowledgment with thanks by Mr. Thom, "Hatless" Hayward and Roy D. King, former officers of the board.

George D. McDill, representative of the educational committee reported that a two-year course in real estate is being prepared and will be taught in the various institutions of learning in the various parts of the country.

By unanimous vote it was decided not to take part in the industrial exposition to be held at Arvadia, soon.

W. L. Truitt made a plea for a cooperation of every member of the board for the new officers, stating that every member of the board has an equal right in the actions of the organization.

In response to a motion by W. L. Truitt that the city council be asked to make a donation toward the baseball park on San Fernando road, Councilman Horn stated that the baseball publicity fund is depleted.

The candidacy of L. H. Wilson and W. L. Twining as directors of the chamber of commerce at the recent election was unanimously endorsed by the board.

BRAND BLVD. OWNERS ATTEND MEETING

Owners of Brand boulevard frontage to the number of 25 to 30 attended a meeting of the Brand boulevard improvement association Tuesday night at which the deal for the Newby property was closed thus providing for the opening up of the Burchett cross boulevard from Brand to San Fernando thus affording an outlet to the west from Glendale's main thoroughfare. Mattison B. Jones, president of the association, conducted the meeting.

LEGION AUXILIARY ASKS PLACE IN WELFARE CHEST

The American Legion Auxiliary in asking for a place in the Welfare Chest has a splendid record of service during the past year to back up its claim for consideration.

The work they are doing should be work of the whole community but it has been entrusted to their hands—pledged to look after the welfare of the World War Veterans and their families. A few of the following facts from their report will give some idea of the scope of their work. Visits to hospitals, giving out of second-hand clothing, aid to wives of ex-service men, distribution of candies, fruits and other comforts to men at Sawtelle, Golden State Hospital, etc., serving of hot lunches to disabled veterans at the California Hotel. This is a line of endeavor that deserves the support of Glendale people who are in a position to give to those less fortunate than themselves.

FRANCIS W. READ

A tight race makes any sporting event interesting. There is not so much enthusiasm in a game or contest of any kind that is a walk-away for either side. The element of suspense and doubt plays so strong a part in sports that those in command of the various sporting events have come to find out that a tight race is the only means of stimulating interest.

This can best be illustrated by the conditions that existed on the Pacific coast two or three years ago and the situation today. After the University of California began its sensational winning streak, there was not much doubt as to the outcome of the coast race for a couple of years. The Bears had it sewed up. Incidentally, interest and attendance waned. Of course, the Blue and Gold eleven would draw a good crowd whenever it played, but nothing like the crowd that it would draw when facing some real opposition. It is said that the California students were wont to wager on the length of time it would take the first touch down. Such a situation, while it may be encouraging to the institution concerned, is not good for the game nor interesting to the public. The fans like a real race and will come out to view a scrap where they would not pay to see one team run all over another.

Compare the condition just described to the situation that exists in Pacific coast football at the present time. The Golden Bears have continued their winning streak, having won all their games this season. If they go through the season undefeated it will give them a record of four years without a loss. But at the same time there has been such a general improvement in the work of the other teams that the race can truly be called a hot one. Many believed that the University of Southern California eleven could defeat the Bears, and indeed they did give them a scrap. For the first time in nearly four years the supremacy of California was in doubt. Then there is the University of Washington, a close contender for the honors. On this Saturday the Huskies will play California for the championship of the Coast Conference. Both teams are undefeated and it is certain that California will have to fight hard to retain the honors.

The Bears have a slight edge on the game, due to reasons referred to in another story on this page, but it is sure that the outcome of the game will be in doubt until the final whistle. Such a condition as this stimulates interest in the race and insures good attendance at the games. Nobody likes to see a walk-away and where this condition exists the attendance is usually poor. In the Southern California Conference, the race is exceedingly close. Incidentally, the interest is keen and the attendance is breaking all records. Ten thousand spectators witnessed the Caltech-Occidental game at Pasadena Monday and saw the Tigers go down to defeat at the hands of the Engineers. The race has now resolved itself into a three-cornered struggle, with Caltech, Occidental and Pomona as the chief combatants. The Whittier eleven, the team that showed up so strong in the early games, has taken a decided slump and has dropped almost completely out of the running.

The upset in dope is another thing that draws interest and crowds to the games. When the Whittier eleven, with its impressive record of early season games, came to Los Angeles for the Southern branch game it drew a big crowd. They wanted to see the eleven that had been characterized as weak in the pre-season dope and had "spilled the beans," so to speak. The Whittier eleven defeated the Cubs and then completely reversed its form, dropping to Pomona and Occidental. Here was a great upset that caused lots of comment. The Pomona eleven, rated as one of the weakest in the conference, has pulled a surprise and is now tied for first place. Incidentally, the Sagehens are drawing crowds to their games.

CALIFORNIA WILL MEET HUSKIES SATURDAY

Bears Are Given Edge in Crucial Game With Washington

Coach Andy Smith's University of California football eleven, undefeated for three years and well on the way toward a record of four seasons, will meet its greatest test Saturday, when it plays Broch Bagshaw's University of Washington team on the California field at Berkeley. This will be the crucial contest for both eleven and will decide the championship of the Pacific Coast Conference for the present season.

In spite of stories to the contrary in certain quarters, the Bears seem to have the edge on the Huskies in the coming contest. Those who favor the Huskies to copy it point to the Washington 22 to 0 victory over U. S. C. and then to the score of 17 to 0, made by the Bruins against the University of Southern California team. By comparing the showing of the two teams against the Trojans they arrive at the conclusion that the Huskies should defeat the Blue and Gold machine.

There are several things that these doers fail to take into account. In the first place, the U. S. C. team that played California was not the same aggregation that met the Huskies. The same men may have appeared in the Trojan lineup in both games, but the morale of the team in actual combat in the two games must be taken into account. The Trojans went up to Seattle confident of beating the Huskies. They underrated their opponents. They had stood a long trip and were playing upon a sand field, whereas they were used to a turf gridiron. When they went into the combat they thought there was no question that they would win. Then came the Washington offense. The Huskies were all set for a big game, and when they pulled their stuff the Trojans went completely to pieces. Their morale was shattered and they were powerless to score or even defend their own goal.

When they met the California team, the Trojans realized that they would have a tough battle, the hardest of the season. They did not underestimate their opponents, and went in with a grim determination to win. They did not win, but nevertheless they never lost spirit as was shown in their march to a touchdown in the last few minutes of play. Then they were playing on their own field and on a turf gridiron.

From this may be gathered that the comparative scores of the two teams against the Trojans count for little or nothing, if comparative scores can ever be said to be of any value. This time the tables will be turned on the Huskies. They will be playing away from home on a turf field, whereas they are used to a sand and sawdust gridiron. They will be playing against a team that has a record untarnished for three years and has not lost a game this season. But, then, neither have the Huskies been defeated this year.

GLENDALE HIGH MIDGET ELEVEN GOES TO COVINA

Putting forth a desperate struggle to tie for first honors in the Central league 130-pound division the Glendale High school football team of Glendale High school journeyed to Covina this afternoon to take on the Covina eleven. A large delegation of rooters accompanied the local team.

Having played a great game all through the season and losing but one contest, the local midgets were given the edge before the game. The kickoff was scheduled for 3:30. The Glendale lineup was as follows:

Lee	R. E.
Green	R. T.
Heiderman	R. G.
Neal	R. C.
Worley	L. G.
Read	L. T.
Jonkey	L. E.

TROJANS TO PLAY WILDCATS ON SATURDAY

Henderson's Men Favored to Defeat University of Arizona

Gloomy Gus Henderson's University of Southern California eleven will meet the Arizona Wildcats in the Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday afternoon. By all odds the Trojans should win, but you never can tell. The attendance at Saturday's game will probably be small due to the loss of interest in the Trojans since they lost to California last week.

Last year U. S. C. scored a 15 to 0 victory and it is expected that the local eleven will have little trouble repeating the dose. Henderson's charges should make it about twice that bad this season, even if he chooses to use most of his second stringers during the game, as he probably will.

The Wildcats haven't a very impressive record to date. They trimmed Phoenix Indian School 48 to 0 and the Texas School of Mines, 12 to 7. On the other hand they were whipped by St. Mary's 32 to 20 and Armistice day the lower California Aggies thumped them 9 to 7. Therefore the Trojans are pretty safe favorites to cop by at least four touchdowns.

Coach Henderson will undoubtedly save Campbell, Newman, Phythian, Holly Adams and some of the other boys, as the University of Idaho is headed this way for a big contest with the Trojans a week from Saturday and U. S. C. will need her full strength for the Vandals.

Henderson hasn't had a wonderfully successful year, but it is stretching the line a wee bit to predict an Arizona victory. It seems that there are two teams in the United States that the Trojans can defeat—Stanford and Arizona, and they have been doing it for some time.

After last Saturday's battle

CHOICE IS NOW BETWEEN BEARS AND WASHINGTON

Although no invitation has been extended to any western football team to play in Pasadena New Year's day in the annual Tournament of the Roses game, either California or the University of Washington will be the choice of the Tournament directors, it was intimated today.

Leslie B. Henry, chairman of the football committee, and W. F. Celler, president of the Tournament association, have planned to witness the game between these two universities in Berkeley next Saturday and in all probability they will invite the winner of the fracas to meet the Navy team on New Year's day.

Neither Henry nor Celler will make a definite statement concerning the selection of a western representative, but it was learned that only California and Washington are being considered. Neither Stanford nor U. S. C. is considered quite strong enough, it was disclosed.

According to members of the association it is their belief that if California is invited they will accept.

against California, U. S. C. can be readily called a team without a punch. It is impossible to have any power without trying to show it, and it was only in the last three minutes of play that the Trojans attempted to show signs of offensive strength—and they got away with it.

The Cardinal and Gold aggregation have nothing to fear from Arizona and are spending less time in thinking about the game. But Idaho arrives in town next Monday for a stop-over until the following Saturday when U. S. C. has one of the hardest games of the season to play. Possibly California demonstrated the successfulness of "opening up" and "playing the game" to the general U. S. C. style of hold 'em, they're a rearin'! In which case Southern California will see a different Trojan football team on the afternoon of the 24th.

"That ought to be good," said he, pointing to the item "meringue glaze" on the menu. "Why not try that?" "Oh, you can't fool me, you old cut-up," she retorted. The orchestra plays that."

GLENDALE BALL TEAM PLAYS AT ANAHEIM SUNDAY

First Home Game to Be Staged Nov. 25 in New Park

Glendale's Class AAA Winter League baseball team will travel to Anaheim Sunday to take on the aggregation of that city in the second game of their schedule. Although they were not able to down the Palms aggregation, playing them a 7 to 7 tie, the Glendale team expects to clean up on the Anaheim nine, according to Mike Donlin, manager of the Glendale outfit.

The schedule for the league has just been completed by Frank Kerwin, manager of the league. The first game the Glendale team will play at home will be on November 25, when they take on the Shell Oil outfit. By that time the new park on San Fernando road will be completed and ready for use. The complete schedule is as follows:

NOVEMBER 18
Sawtelle at Shell Oil.
Glendale at Anaheim.
Union Tool at Palms.
Wilmington at San Pedro.

DYNAMITERS PLAY COVINA FOR THE LEAGUE PENNANT

Glendale Team Favorite in Tomorrow's Championship Game

By FAIRFIELD WILSON

Normal Hayhurst of the Glendale Hi heavyweight football team has his boys in fine condition for the game of games with Covina tomorrow on the local field. When the two teams step onto the gridiron it will be a fight to the end for the Central league championship. As far as can be gathered, both teams are confident of a victory. Whether either is over confident remains to be seen. Neither team has lost a game yet. Covina has been scored on, Glendale has not. Glendale defeated Alhambra 25-0. Covina won from the Moors by a score of 7-3. It is easy to gather who will be the popular favorite from these statistics, but popular favoritism counts for little when it comes to real football, played by real teams, and the same can be said of comparative scores.

Glendale is lucky in that, save for Murphy, there have been no serious injuries to any of her players, and at the present the Dynamiters team is practically intact. The Glendalians will start the game with their well-known backfield and the same line which has been giving such fine exhibitions in the many games already to their credit.

It is expected that not only students but also the local grid fans will turn out in full strength to see the game. It will surely be worth the time spent to see these two confident, hopeful and skillful teams in action. Moreover, the fans owe it to the Dynamiters to give them their hearty support in the final league game of the season, especially when that team has shown such ability as to become the talk of the Southern California sport world. If the Dynamiters are the victors in tomorrow's clash, they will go into the play-off for the Southern California championship. This has been their desire for several years past, and it looks quite likely this year.

Tomorrow's game will be called at 8:30. General admission is 50 cents; students, 25 cents.

AUTO REPAIRING

"SO EASY"
Clutch Attachment for Chevrolet Cars

There is nothing so annoying or injurious as the constant grabbing of a clutch which has a tendency to loosen the mechanical parts from the radiator to the rear end and is extremely unpleasant to the ones riding in the car. After this grabbing has taken place for a short time there is a likelihood of its tearing the whole rear end out, which is an unnecessary expense if you will only realize the clutch of any car needs occasional attention. You will have a smooth, easy but positive action thereby saving yourself expensive repairs bills and make riding a pleasure as the SO EASY makes a good clutch better.

GLENDALE AND COVINA FOOTBALL
SQUADS PLAY OFF TIE TOMORROW

Howard Elliott, one of the star football players this season for Glendale Union high school.

Glendale's heavyweight team plays Covina high school on Moyse Field tomorrow at 3 o'clock for the championship of the Central League. Neither team has been beaten so the game is expected to be very exciting.

One of the star players on the local team is Howard Elliott, whose brother, Darrell Elliott, also plays on the squad. They came to Glendale at the close of last football season from Devil's Lake, North Dakota.

Assemblies are being held today at the high school to stimulate interest in tomorrow's game. These are in charge of Ronald West, president of the student body.

GIRLS LEAGUE
STARTS WORKGirl's League Is to Give Thanksgiving and Christmas Parties

Several girls from the High school visited the Boyd street school last week in order to gain some definite knowledge concerning the Thanksgiving and Christmas work which is to be done for this school. The girls who went were: Gwen Warner, Miriam Bainbridge, Anna May Monroe and Catherine Baird. They were able to go through the courtesy of Mr. Beech of the Jewett agency.

The girls' league this year is planning to take care of thirty-six children at both Thanksgiving and Christmas. Catherine Baird, chairman of the philanthropic committee, which is composed of Anna May Monroe, Miriam Bainbridge, Daisy Whitesell, Edith Sperry and Clarisse Dinsmore, with the help of Frederica Marshall, social committee chairman, and Emilie Berry, entertainment chairman, has arranged two parties to be given the children on these holiday occasions. Definite plans for the parties were made at a meeting of the philanthropic, social and entertainment committees, which was held November 7 in the girls' league office.

Many games were decided upon and the refreshments were planned. Six pumpkin pies, six dozen apples, eighteen pounds of assorted nuts and also grapes will be needed. These things will have to be donated by the students of Glendale High before November 28, as that is the date set for the Thanksgiving party. The girls who are in charge of the affair will take care of the flowers and other table decorations.

Gwen Warner, president of the girls' league, asks that all the students of this high school co-operate with the league in donating the pies, nuts and fruits for the Thanksgiving party. At the Christmas party such things as toys, clothes, all kinds of canned food, fruit, candy, nuts and a big Christmas tree will be needed. Last year at Christmas time Glendale High took care of thirty families. This year, with both the girls' league and boys' league working together and with the help of all the students, Glendale High should be able to take good care of thirty-six families. Don't forget to bring donations before November 28 for the Thanksgiving party. They can be left at the girls' league office or given either to Gwen or Catherine.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ANNUAL CONVENTION SOON

It has been announced heretofore that the national convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America would be held at Birmingham, Alabama, December 17-20. A change is announced however, by Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, secretary of the executive committee of the league, for both time and place. The convention will be held at Washington and the date will be January 12-17.

Dr. Cherrington says that many considerations, all of interest to the forces of righteousness, impelled the executive committee to make the change in location, and a very significant thing is responsible for the change in date.

"In the first place," he says, "the east and the Atlantic seaboard now need more of the gospel of law enforcement and obedience to constituted authority than any other section, the South and West having more nearly settled this question. It is in the East the most home mission work along this line must be done, for it is along the Atlantic that there occur the most systematic and persistent violations of law."

"Secondly," the Anti-Saloon League several years ago declared for the policy of world-wide prohibition, and through the World League Against Alcoholism is carrying out the truly missionary plan of carrying the prohibition gospel into other hands, just as the churches are carrying the gospel of Christ into other lands. Recent evidences indicate that many foreign governments are becoming greatly interested in prohibition. So much so in fact, that they have requested their ministers to this country to make official reports on prohibition in America. In Washington will be found ambassadors and other official and semi-official representatives of all the nations, who are paying alert attention to American prohibition and its results, for they well know that organized temperance activities are being undertaken in all lands, and that world prohibition is to spread over the earth just as the Christian religion is spreading.

"Thirdly," Birmingham, while just as hospitable as possible, is not large enough to afford sufficient hotel accommodations for all who wish to attend. Recent indications are that the convention will be much larger than was anticipated when Birmingham was decided upon for the convention. We welcome delegates from each individual church congregation, Sunday school, young people's society, temperance organization and civic association. In past conventions many congregations have sent their pastors as delegates, and it seems probable that at the next convention there will be more such delegates than ever before, because, this work of upholding the Constitution and laws against the assaults of the lawless elements is coming to be recognized as one of the greatest pieces of practical Christianity any church can help to perform.

Wednesday, January 16, marks the fourth anniversary of the going into effect of the Eighteenth amendment. A celebration of that anniversary will mark the closing night of the convention, and will be a most important and glorious consummation. Think what an effect would be produced by thousands of the representatives of the churches and the moral reform forces in America, filling Pennsylvania avenue in a march of allegiance to the Constitution! Such a feature, in fact, is being considered by the program committee, and probably will be arranged.

"As heretofore there will be a conference of all the League workers in America, preceding the convention; but because of the high importance of the subjects to be discussed and the aggressive future of offensive attack to be planned, the conference will be longer than usual, meeting January 9 and closing on the evening of January 11. The convention proper will begin on Saturday, January 12. Sunday, January 13, will be observed as Anti-Saloon League field day in hundreds of the churches of Washington and nearby.

"It is urged that there be no delay in the appointing of delegates and the obtaining of hotel accommodations. Inquiries directed to the program committee, Anti-Saloon League of America, Westerville, O., will receive prompt attention."

RECOMMENDS U. S. CURTAIL RECLAMATION WORK
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, one of the most foremost advocates of reclamation legislation, today recommended to President Coolidge that he make no request of Congress at its coming session for enactment of reclamation bills.

Present laws under which the federal government is able to expend about $9,000,000 annually for new reclamation work are adequate in view of the agricultural depression, Senator McNary told the president.

"The chief aim of reclamation bills such as the Smith-McNary proposal in the past have been extension of our agricultural area," the senator said. "Just now, however, one of the things we need most is restriction of farms."

Attractive Hats and Gloves
A window full of small draped hats of sapphire blue is the object of much admiring comment. To wear with these hats, white kid gauntlets are shown with the tops lined with the same blue velvet and touches of colored embroidery here and there.

A VISION FROM FAIRYLAND IS THE BEAUTY DISPLAY IN GOLDEN CIRCUS

A VISION FROM FAIRYLAND

Visitors to the Golden Bros. big four ring trained wild animal circus this season are promised a most unusual novelty in the way of a spectacle called "Cinderella in Jungland." Nothing of its size has ever been attempted under canvas before.

However, it is more than a mere spectacle. Indeed, yes. As you know California is the home of the Golden Brothers circus. There in winter months the bathing beauties disport themselves before the camera and make merry. But in the summer the mercury climbs to such a point in that land of sunshine, that movie work is suspended. Thus it was when the bathing beauties heard of the summer spectacle in view they applied for positions. Needless to say they all got them.

So it will come to pass in Glendale today the populace will have an opportunity to look over at close range, those delightful bits of pulchritude. Those who have graced the silver screen now grace the sawdust. It is in keeping, however, with the magnitude of the Golden Bros. big four ring wild animal circus, and their conscientious effort to make the circus an educational institution.

Cinderella in Jungland is replete with gorgeous costumes, some of them inlaid with silver and gold. The number of semi-precious stones used in the wardrobe totals two bushels, and the scenery for the event is all by the famous Bask. Children, as well as those who do not believe in growing up, will enjoy this thing of beauty. It is a fit opening to the mammoth wild animal exhibition. Beauty and wild beasts roam, and seem to be happy together in this spectacle. There in one corner is a babbling brook, and on the other side the jungle, where disport themselves the famous bathing beauties.

GOLF FATALITIES

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE
Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc.
(Copyright, 1923, by The Associated Newspapers)

The recent occurrence of a number of sudden deaths on the golf links has moved sundry physicians to inveigh against the playing of golf by elderly men. Whereas it formerly was held to be pre-eminently a game for the middle-aged and elderly, these doubters now proclaim that it is too strenuous for any except the young and fully fit.

Others who do not go as far as this, suggest that golf is at least a game to be avoided by all men of any age who have heart or arterial weakness. Thus we find Dr. C. J. Hastings, Toronto's medical officer of health, advising would-be golfers to submit to a medical examination, with special reference to the state of the heart and arteries, before allowing themselves to become devotees of the links.

In the case of golfers past the age of 40 or 45, Dr. Hastings would have this examination repeated at intervals of six months or a year. By this means, it is his belief, it would be possible to keep at a safe distance from golf courses all who should be kept from playing over them.

On the other hand, there are medical men who feel that the cry, "Beware of golf!" is needlessly alarmist, and would have the middle-aged and elderly continue to play golf as of yore. Typical of this class is Dr. A. K. Haywood, superintendent of the Montreal General hospital, who in a recent interview is quoted as saying:

"If one out of every 50,000 golf players drops dead on the course, that proves nothing in particular against golf, as the game is a favorite among people over 40, and, according to the death rate among people in normal health over 40 years of age, pretty nearly 500 of the 50,000 golf players are due to die somewhere whether they play golf or not."

"There are, of course, a few people who should not take violent exercise. Sufferers from angina pectoris and other serious heart affections should make sure of their physical condition before doing any severe physical exercise."

These two developments, lengthening of golf courses and undue earnestness in the playing of golf, account in my opinion for the rising golf death rate.

And unless middle-aged and elderly players take them sufficiently into account, giving preference to easy courses and playing golf as a game rather than a business, they will indeed be well advised to drop golf altogether, whatever the condition of their heart and their arteries.

NINE BROTHERS WIN PENNANT FOR MICHIGAN TOWN

[By Associated Press]

COLEMAN, Mich., Nov. 15.—To write the lineup of the Coleman baseball team all a scorer is required to do is to put down "Menther" at the top of the column and then jot down eight "ditto" marks beneath.

The Coleman team is all Menther—nine brothers—each a six-footer, and there are three others who can pinch hit if needed. Fred Menther, 79 years old, is the father of this baseball team that won its second consecutive district league pennant this year. "Pa" Menther keeps his eyes on the management of the club, although another son is in active charge. Mr. Menther did not miss a game during the past season, being on hand to see his boys capture 12 and lose three games played in the league that is made up of clubs from Clara, Beaverton, Gladwin, Rosebush, Farswell and Coleman.

Father Menther is proud of his ball-playing sons. Mrs. Menther, mother of the nine players, three other sons and four daughters, says she doesn't know much about the game, but likes to see her boys play and win. Playing on Sunday, as has been the custom in the league, is much against her wishes, however. Another cause for worry is her fear that some of her sons may become "too good" on the home diamond and be lured to the cities by scouts from the big leagues. Mrs. Menther wants her family to remain here and work the 600 acres of farm land that occupies most of the entire family's working hours.

The age range of the brothers is 19 to 36 years. August Menther, the oldest player, is rightfielder; Henry, the "baby," who is 19, plays second base and pitches when brother Joseph, pitcher and captain, needs relief on the mound.

The Coleman team roster lists Jason Menther, Jr.; Joseph, p.; Edward, c.; William, ss.; Fred, 3b.; Floyd, 1b.; Otto, cf.; Henry, 2b. and p.; August, rf., and Frank, manager.

All the bustle at the dock of the steamship Elongated, the longest vessel afloat. People were being whizzed aboard in taxicabs. Emerging from these they took fast deck trains to their various cabins. Then came the whistle indicating that it was time for visitors to depart. An official immediately took up his position and started the familiar warning: "All ashore that's going ashore."

At the same time he beckoned to his assistant.

"John," said he to that worthy, "just telephone forward to see that no visitors go ashore in Europe. We have been losing too much money that way lately."

Coming Tomorrow!
Two Joyous Days!

HERE'S a happy combination—Thomas Meighan and an original George Ade story! You know what that means—a made-to-order role for the star, a flock of laughs and a box-car load of surprises. Then, too, pretty Lila Lee plays opposite big, good-natured Tom. "Woman Proof," admit hard-boiled newspaper critics, "is a picture without a single flaw." That's saying SOMETHING.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY IS CHEST BENEFICIARY

The Children's Home Society of California, which is one of the beneficiaries of the Glendale Welfare Chest, is doing splendid work throughout the state of California. It is supported entirely by voluntary contributions and because of the type of work it is doing it has a distinct appeal to Glendale people.

The object of the work is to place children of every nationality and every creed in carefully selected homes—to contribute interest in and supervision over the child after being placed—to render advice and assistance in any case involving child welfare.

During the past year the organization gives account for 642 children. Of these, 222 were adopted by families that could give them a wholesome home environment and train them to be efficient citizens of our country. This means that these 222 little ones have been welcomed by loving parents who will love them and educate them as their very own. A glance at the report of the attention given to children will prove to the readers that the society has not been lax in its endeavor to care for the little ones.

It is always the aim of the society to safeguard the interests of its little charges and to place only healthy normal children in suitable homes where they may become useful and respectable citizens.

The budget committee of the Welfare Chest after careful consideration commends this organization to the people of Glendale and asks that it be supported in the forthcoming drive November 20 to 23.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

A large attendance of club members and many guests greeted Mrs. C. A. Haskins, president of the La Crescenta Woman's club at the regular meeting yesterday afternoon. The principal topic of discussion during the business session was the building of the new club house, the erection of which is being planned for early next year. A dance to be given Saturday evening was announced, also a card party for Thursday evening, November 22. The popular afternoon teas given by club members each year will again be resumed, Mrs. C. E. Culbertson to be hostess at the first affair Friday afternoon, November 23, at her home on East Michigan avenue. Sixteen new members were voted into the club during the business session yesterday. A most delightful program included a dance by Miss Frances Morgan of Tujunga, a new member of the club and a great favorite here, and two readings by Miss E. Ellis. Mrs. C. J. Klatt and Mrs. T. O. Potts were hostesses during the social hour. Mrs. H. Carpenter and Mrs. J. S. Martin presiding at the tea tables.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carson of 214 West Honolulu avenue entertained a group of friends from the east yesterday. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lester Strout, Miss Emma Strout and Master Edwin Strout, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Newton, and Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Smith, all from Readville, Maine.

M. Moulton of Los Angeles purchased the home of Carl Keefer on East Sycamore avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Keefer and daughters are planning to make Pasadena their home for the present. Their departure is deeply regretted by their many friends here.

The La Crescenta branch of the Los Angeles county free library will be open Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock instead of Saturday evening, for this week only.

Armistice day was fittingly celebrated in the La Crescenta schools. A short program by the children, a splendid talk by Eugene Mix of Glendale on the American Legion and Armistice Day, and a half hour of community singing were pleasant features of the day's program.

G. Behn, druggist of the La Crescenta pharmacy, escaped serious injury when his car collided with a gravel truck on Michigan avenue last Monday, completely demolishing his car. Mr. Behn feels he is very fortunate to have escaped with but a few cuts and bruises.

A public reception will be held at the new Community church next Monday evening by Rev. Kelson, pastor, and members of the congregation. The musical program to be rendered during the evening will be under the supervision of Miss Marguerite Haubart.

To avoid the necessity of laundering an otherwise perfectly clean tablecloth because of the accidental fruit or other stain, carefully slip a folded towel between cloth and table padding, and on this towel place an empty bowl, having the stain directly over the bowl. Pour boiling water through the stain till it fades away. Now remove the bowl, lay another bowl on the wet place and iron until nearly dry. Carefully slip out the under towel and pass the iron again over the cloth a few times and it will be as fresh as ever, without having been wrinkled or removed from the table.

SONG AT EVENING

What trials may befall,
What ill life sends,
Let me be glad for work
And for my friends.

Let me look back at eve
From sinking sun
Upon my day and see
My task well done.

As might the husbandman
Upon his grain
Furrowed in the field to wait
The sun and rain.

What if for long he sleep
Unwept, unknown?
Some time some one shall reap
Where he hath sown.

What if no rich reward
His task shall gain?
Enough that there be stored
The bins of grain.

The bins of grain be won
To have and keep.
The sower's task is done,
So let him sleep.

Let me know this at eve,
And this alone,
Some one some time shall reap
Where I have sown.

So what the day may be
Or when it ends,
Let me be glad for work
And for my friends.

"WOMAN PROOF" OPENS FRIDAY AT T. D. & L. THEATER

Is any man safe from the affections of feminine admirers? Is the inheritance of $1,000,000 on one's wedding day really a help to Cupid where a nice girl is concerned? These and other questions are answered in Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount star picture, "Woman Proof," which will be shown at the T. D. & L. theatre tomorrow. This is a story of romance where the conditions of matrimony are decidedly unromantic, written by George Ade, noted humorist.

The story is that of a civil engineer, Tom Rockwood, played by Thomas Meighan, whose father made a will stipulating that all his children must marry before they could inherit his huge fortune. Tom has two sisters and a brother, all of whom soon select mates, but Tom is too busy directing a huge engineering project to bother about love. The story opens with the brother and sisters and their prospective mates planning to induce Tom to marry. Meanwhile, young Rockwood accidentally falls in love, and is on the point of proposing marriage when complications arise.

Milo Bleech, an unscrupulous lawyer and the executor of the Rockwood estate, temporarily blocks the love romance of Tom and Louise Halliday, but matters are finally adjusted. Bleech is defeated and the Rockwoods inherit the fortune. Lila Lee is the girl, and heads a strong supporting cast.

Last showing of "The Last Hour," with Milton Sills in the title role, today.

PETITE RENEE ADOREE TODAY AT THE GATEWAY

When the new Metro picture, "The Eternal Struggle," appears on the screen at the Gateway theatre today, a new screen luminary—Renee Adoree—will flash before movie fans. Miss Adoree is a member of a distinguished cast but it is certain her work in this picture will win stellar honors for her. Many of the thrilling scenes of "The Eternal Struggle" were filmed in northwest Canada. Miss Adoree narrowly escaped death twice—once when caught in the path of the snowslide near Banff, Alberta; and again when her canoe overturned in the treacherous Seymour rapids. Although Reginald Barker, the producer, urged that she be "doubled," the plucky little star refused and went through her scenes without fear.

Miss Adoree plays the part of Andree, a French Canadian. "The Eternal Struggle" is based upon G. B. Lancaster's novel, "The Law-Bringers," adapted to the screen by J. G. Hawks and Monte M. Katterjohn.

The cast includes Barbara La Marr, Earle Williams, Pat O'Malley and Wallace Beery.

VIOLA DANA DONS BIG HOOP SKIRTS AT THE GLENDALE

Being just a "wee bit old fashioned," in manner and dress gives Viola Dana a chance to display some pretty crinolines in "Crinoline and Romance," her new Metro picture which Harry Beaumont directed, now at the Glendale theatre.

Among the charming little dresses of grandma's day worn by Miss Dana is a soft lavender silk with clusters of rosebuds designed in the material. Around the hem of the skirt is a scalloped ruffle, edged with narrow rose-colored satin ribbon. The puffed sleeves also have ruffles edged with the ribbon. With this dress is worn a poke bonnet of rose satin faced with white georgette and trimmed with a wreath of rose-colored flowers.

The evening dress is of light blue taffeta with ruffles around the bottom of the skirt, edged with valenciennes lace. Miss Dana enacts the role of a little Southern girl in this original story by Bernard McConville. As a result, hoop-skirts, bonnets and ruffles have come back into vogue in so far as she is concerned.

MARK A. DENMAN SPEAKS BEFORE TRAVEL SECTION

WELFARE CHEST CAMPAIGNERS MEET AND PLAN

A meeting of the campaign committee of the Glendale Community Welfare Chest was held Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce, attended by practically all of the committeemen and a number of workers who had been enlisted by the majors appointed for the divisions into which the town has been segregated.

Mrs. John Robert White, who is a captain of the tenth district which includes her own home at the corner of Lexington and Orange, is having a meeting of the workers she has lined up at her residence this afternoon to instruct them in campaign methods and give out literature.

A final mass meeting of the campaign committee, majors, captains and workers and of all persons interested in the success of community chest work, will be held Monday night in the high school when instruction and inspiration will be given for the actual canvass to begin Tuesday, November 20.

Board of Education in Lengthy Session

Board of Education Tuesday night in a session lasting until midnight, considered a number of subjects of interest to the grammar school system of Glendale.

The general contract for the new unit to the Cerritos School was awarded to Contractor Elmer Elliott, of 612 East Elk avenue, for $18,538. The heating contract was awarded to the Potter Corporation of Pasadena for $345.

The new additions to the Acacia, Broadway, Doran, Magnolia and Pacific schools were officially accepted.

The Pacific avenue P. T. A. was represented at the meeting by Mrs. L. P. Tronsier, of 350 West Maple street, and Mrs. Dean S. Phillips, of 207 West Chestnut avenue. They requested that a gas stove in one of the bungalows be connected and that water faucets be installed. Fitting up the bungalow as a lunchroom was authorized.

The new unit to the Magnolia school will be ready to be occupied as soon as the desks have been installed. The board did not decide whether or not to abandon the present building on these grounds.

Construction of bicycle racks at the Grandview school was authorized. The cost will be $71.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over RHEUMATISM

Has Also Proven Remarkably Successful in Severe Cases of Rheumatic Neuritis

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Roberts & Echols to dispense Allen's with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.—Adv.
